New & Special Projects

Be Bold, Be Brave and Break Barriers November 16, and 17th at BP Energy Center AK

This year, ASAGA welcomed Megan Brand and Peter Wall from Colorado and Robert Flesichner from Massachusetts who along with our own local expertise presented at this year's annual conference. Topics ranged from controversial requests, self-determination, dignity and risk, sexuality, financial orders of protection and more. With thanks to the Governor's Council and Disabilities and the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority – our two main partners in this event, we hosted over 80 participants this year. ASAGA also thanks returning community showcases with Stone Soup Group, Hope Community Resources and Midnight Sun Home Care for their support. Lastly, ASAGA thanks the ABE Opportunity Grant for the funding to support this event.

Jackson Stanley Conference Scholarship

ASAGA was proud to host Amanda Pagaran from Wasilla as the winner for the 2018 Jackson Stanley Conference Scholarship in Palm Springs, CA this past October. She attended a variety of sessions that pertained not only to the guardianship for her daughter but other aspects of her life as well. Next year, the NGA conference is in Lexington, Kentucky from October 13th to the 15th.

ASAGA has partnered with the Alaska Court System by offering our training on Becoming a Guardian and How to do the Annual Reports in the Anchorage area. It is our hope that this class will be streamed live in the coming year for others to attend who prefer a live class. Stay tuned!
